JOSH YOUNG

C                    G            Am
The stars in the sky bow to You
                                 F
The flowers of the field
                                 C
Dance to Your song
                                 G                            Am
And I am not ashamed to lift up my voice
                                 F
I am not ashamed

C                    G            Am
I run to the edge of Your love
                                 F                            C
I close my eyes and I fall into You
                                 G                            Am
And as I rest in Your arms
                                 F                            C
I know I'm free, I know I'm free
